Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

The objective of the Mawer Global Equity Fund (the "Fund") is to invest for above-average risk-adjusted returns in securities of companies around the world. This is done by choosing companies that we believe will be wealth-creating in the long-term and are trading at a discount to their intrinsic value. We prefer companies with enduring competitive advantages that will allow them to earn a return greater than their cost of capital over the long-term. The Fund has a long-term buy-and-hold strategy and seeks to keep turnover low.

Risk

This Fund is suitable for investors seeking long-term growth and who have a moderate to high tolerance for risk. General risks of investing in this Fund are outlined in the Prospectus and include the possibility of reduction in value of any given investment, liquidity risk, interest rate risk, and currency risk amongst others.

The Manager reduces the exposure to these risks by not concentrating more than 20% of the net assets of the Fund in a particular industry (i.e., sub-sector) as defined by the Global Industry Classification Standards (GICS). It is also the Manager's policy to have no more than 10% of the net assets in any one common share of a corporation, at the time of purchase. The Fund invests in global corporations which can include a market capitalization of less than $3 billion (USD) at the time of purchase. The Fund also typically keeps its Emerging Market weight to less than 20% of the Fund's market value as defined by countries within the MSCI Emerging Markets Total Return Index. The Fund also invests a maximum 75% of the Fund's market value in the United States and a maximum of 25% of the Fund's market value in any other country not mentioned above.

As of December 31, 2017, the Fund was invested in 10 of the 11 Global Industry Classification (GICS) sectors. The Fund's largest sector weightings were in Financials (29%), Industrials (16%), and Information Technology (15%). Combined, the weight in the three largest sectors represented 60% of the portfolio versus 52% at the end of 2016. In aggregate, the ten largest individual holdings accounted for 29% of the portfolio versus 31% at the end of 2016.

Results of Operations

The Fund's net assets increased 34.7% to $3,253.9 million from $2,402.0 million at the end of 2016. Of this change, $484.5 million was attributable to positive investment performance and $349.4 million was due to net contributions to the Fund.

Year-to-date, the Fund's A series recorded a 17.5% return versus 15.8% for the MSCI ACWI ex US (Net) All performance values provided are in Canadian dollar terms. The Fund's relative return was mainly driven by security selection. Positive selection was due to the outperformance of the Fund's Industrials and Financials holdings. Sector allocation was mostly flat over the period.

From a geographic perspective, relative performance was due to the Fund's strong security selection. The Fund's holdings in the U.S., Canada, and the U.K. outperformed their benchmark peers. overweight in Europe and underweight in Japan drove positive allocation. Allocation was marginally negative over the period due to the Fund's overweight exposure to Canada, one of the benchmark's weakest performing regions.

Overall, the top contributors to the Fund's performance were S&P Global, Inc, Intertek Group plc, and Tencent Holdings Ltd. Meanwhile, WPP Plc, Verizon Communications Inc., and Exxon Mobil Corp were the biggest detractors over the year.

The Fund initiated the following new positions:

Recent Developments

Markets continued their yearlong upward trajectory in the final quarter. Synchronized growth in advanced economies and tepid inflation environment contributed to another year of mostly strong performance in global asset markets. Despite steps that central banks continue to take to gradually tighten monetary policy, as well as risks in the system, volatility was overall low.

Central bankers in many advanced economies managed to prepare investors for a tightening path without spooking them. In October, the European Central Bank extended its asset purchase program until September 2018 but halved its monetary purchases. In November, after ten years of the same rate, the Bank of England raised its policy rate by 25 basis points to 0.50%. In December, the Federal Reserve increased its benchmark rate from 1.25% to 1.50% in December as widely anticipated. The Bank of Japan maintained status quo; Japan is one of the few advanced economies not on some sort of tightening path.

Red flags emerged within China's financial system. Credit growth has supported overall economic growth in China over the last few years, as the growth burden has shifted somewhat from China's export market to domestic markets. However, concerns have mounted over the quality of credit to local governments and large corporations, especially in industrial sectors that have been burdened by overcapacity, as well as property markets. Chinese leaders were more vocal this quarter in naming financial stability and debt as areas they will seek to control in 2018.

A new tax bill made its way through U.S. Congress. The legislation, which will bring the corporate tax rate to 21%, will represent the first major legislative victory for President Trump. Investors expected some sort of tax bill since early in the year.

U.K. Prime Minister Theresa May was able to break some ground in Brexit negotiations, which offered some hope to those in the 'soft' Brexit camp. Having agreed to payments in the divorce bill, stalled negotiations were able to proceed. Discussions around Ireland also moved negotiations along. However, the Prime Minister suffered a defeat when the U.K. parliament passed a law that guarantees Parliament will get a meaningful vote on the final Brexit deal at the end of negotiations in 2019.

Global oil prices rose, with WTI trading near $60 and Brent surpassing that level. While the recovered oil price was good news for OPEC, the International Energy Agency estimated that U.S. shale producers are staging a comeback.

Going forward, we remain sensitive to the tepid growth outlook for the world economy and its influence on equity markets. As such, our approach to portfolio construction remains the same; we continue to emphasize high-quality companies with strong competitive advantages, solid balance sheets and business models that generate stable cash flows

Related Party Transactions – Management Fees

As Portfolio Advisors to the Fund, Mawer Investment Management Ltd. ("Mawer") receives management fees which are calculated for Series A units as 1.15% per annum of the net asset value of the Fund calculated on a daily basis. Management fees for Series O units are payable directly to the Manager by Series O investors and not by the Fund.

The terms of the Management Agreement were amended January 4, 1994, to grant the Manager of the Fund the ability, at their discretion, to reduce the management fees for large investors. This reduction is effected by means of a management fee distribution and will be automatically reinvested in additional units of the Fund at the net asset value of the Fund on the date of distribution. Mawer also receives fees for performing administrative services. As at December 31, 2017 the Fund owes Mawer $39,962 related to these administrative services.

(1) This information is provided as at December 31 of the year shown, as applicable.

(2) Management expense ratio is based on total expenses for the stated year and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the year.

(3) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio adviser manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher a fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a fund.

(4) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the year.

Past Performance

Sales commissions, trailing commissions, management fees and expenses all may be associated with mutual fund investments. Please read the Prospectus before investing. The indicated rates of return are the historical annual compounded total returns including changes in unit value and reinvestment of all distributions and do not take into account sales, redemption, distribution or optional charges or income taxes payable by any investor that would have reduced returns. Mutual funds are not guaranteed. Their value changes frequently and past performance may not be repeated.

The Fund's performance numbers assume that all distributions are reinvested in additional units of the Fund. If you hold this Fund outside of a registered plan, income and capital gains distributions that are paid to you increase your income for tax purposes whether paid to you in cash or reinvested in additional units. The amount of the reinvested taxable distributions is added to the adjusted cost base of the units that you own. This would decrease your capital gains or increase your capital loss when you later redeem from the Fund, thereby ensuring that you are not taxed on this amount again. Please consult your tax advisor regarding your personal tax situation.

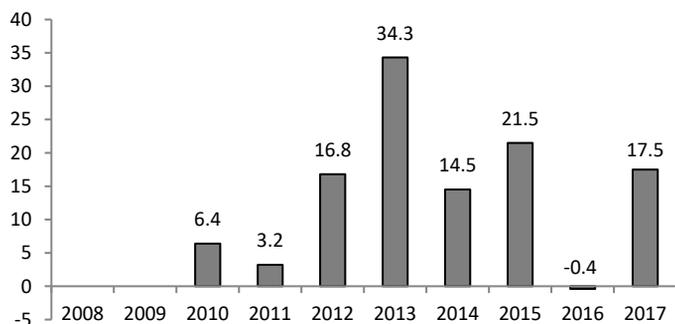

The past performance of the Fund is set out in the following charts.
