

Do you have a passion for investing?

Our global investment research analysts are here to learn, to dig, to uncover hidden gems, while seeking wealth-creating companies and simultaneously helping our clients.

Our investment team's unique culture has been established through years of candour, cognitive diversity, idea sharing and joint challenges in a pursuit for excellence, where title and tenure is of little importance.

Your opportunity to join a world-class team

You will not be assigned to one specific industry; instead, researching a broad spectrum of sectors, industries and geographies will help you develop as an investor and our open concept office, mentorship and internal training allows plenty of opportunities for professional growth.

The Role – Co-op Equity Analyst

The main function of the Equity Analyst position is to help our Portfolio Managers allocate capital globally. The successful candidate will:

- Generate investment ideas
- Analyze corporate news and public documents
- Interview management teams
- Build discounted cash flow models
- Make recommendations for the purchase and sale of investments

Education and skills

- Undergraduate or post-graduate degree in ANY program
- Willingness to enroll in the CFA program, or already enrolled
- Investment experience analysing companies would be an asset
- Knowledge of VBA and/or other programming languages would be beneficial

What we are looking for in candidates

- A passion for investing
- Proven research and analytical skills
- A track record of excellence

How to apply

To join our Calgary team—a stone's throw from the Rocky Mountains—applicants must be currently legally able to work in Canada or eligible for a Canadian work visa. Applicants should provide one PDF including a résumé (no cover letters please), most recent university transcripts, and a response to the following questions (maximum one page):

1. How and why did you determine that you had a passion for investing? What have you done about it since then?
2. In what area(s) of your life have you demonstrated a track record of excellence, outside of academics? Please provide examples of your tenacity demonstrated to achieve these goals.

Only applications that include all required materials will be considered. Please email analystresumes@mawer.com by January, 25th 2018.

No telephone inquiries please.

We thank all applicants and advise that only those selected for an interview will be contacted.
